Husbands Entertained by Ev. W.M.S.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Berscht was the scene of a very happy gathering last Monday evening, when sixty or more members and friends of the Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Society of the Evangelical Church were gathered there for a social hour.

The occasion was planned by the ladies for their husbands as guest of honor. After the usual social preliminaries the program for the evening was introduced by a singing of gospel hymns, followed by a bit of "relish" by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Roppel. Then came a play, "The packing of the mission-Sry barrel," by a group of ladies, who more than excelled themselves as entertainers as well as missionary workers. This was not only really interesting and humorous but also full of good morals.

The ladies again pleased the husbands by a generous repast—sugar and spice and all things nice.

The social hour closed with the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds."

Curling Competition Drawing to Close.

The local curling competition has been running true to schedule this past week and by Thursday all the finals will have been decided. Cook with his strong quartette took first money in the major event by defeating McGhee. Sinclair received third and Leisemer fourth in this event.

In the minor event Pitt defeated McCloy in a very close contested game to reach the finals and Kaufman sneaked a lucky win over the Weber rink to get into finishing round.

Julien rink reached the finals in the consolation when they defeated Sanderman by the odd point. Fisher and Studer still have to play to decide the opposition for Julien.

At the time of going to press the ladies are playing their first games, the result of which will be published next week.

Hockey Friday night, Innisfail at Didsbury, 8.30 sharp.

The 4B's opening dance on Wednesday of last week was a failure. The boys who sponsored the dance were much disappointed at the small turnout of local people, fully 90 per cent of the crowd were from neighboring towns. This has not discouraged the boys, however, and they feel they will get better support next time, so arrangements have been made to hold another dance on Monday, March 31st, with Bone's orchestra. A person from Innisfail was winner of the prize for guessing the meaning of the 4 Bs.

The Saskatchewan pool reports that 600 new contracts were signed during the month in that province.

AUTO PRODUCTION IN CANADA EXPANDING

Automobile production in Canadian factories during 1929 amounted to 263,295 units, an increase of 9% over the previous year, the growing popularity of closed cars being indicated by an increase of 13% in such models.

Truck output increased 36%. Exports of passenger automobiles during the year were 16% larger, the greatest gain being in cars of the $500 to $1,000 class. Truck exports were 56% larger than in 1928, the chief increase being noted in those of over 1-ton capacity. Truck imports during the year dropped 27% from the 1928 valuation. A decline is also noted in the valuation of passenger cars imported, due to a falling off of 19% in the movement of cars valued at more than $1,200. There was an increase of 6% in the movement of cars listed at less than $1,200.

BERT JOHNSTON RETURNS WITH HIS COMEDIANS

Mr. Sharp, manager of the Opera House, Didsbury, has made arrangements with Joe Marks, manager of Bert Johnston's Big Magic, Vaudeville and Fun Show, for their appearance here for three nights Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14-15.

Bert Johnston needs no introduction to theatregoers. He is known from coast to coast and never fails to delight his audiences. Many new tricks and illusions are being presented by the magician on his present trans-Canada tour. When Mr. Johnston left the east he had not one of his old tricks with him, but many requests for some of the favorites were so numerous that he found it advisable to bring them out. Madam Callow, Canada's only lady magician, is still included in the company as well as Salambo, Johnston's clever assistant. Also Cyril Johnston, in clever billiard ball manipulations. The balance of the company are making their first trip west, including Evelyn, "the girl of a million songs," who introduces an act that mystifies and delights patrons everywhere; also Angus D. Bell, versatile violinist. Audiences are remarking on the depths and beauty of the tone he produces and Mr. Bert Taylor, clever Australian comedian, in song and dance numbers. An English act is introduced that is rarely seen in this country, "The Puppets," consisting of doll-like figures which sing and dance in their own little theatre.

A complete change of program is given each evening. Mr. Sharp has cancelled his pictures for this engagement. Prices within the reach of everyone. Company's own orchestra in attendance. See ad.

The Immigration Problem

The subject of immigration, which is at present receiving a large share of attention by the people of Canada, and causing them no little concern, has always been in the forefront of national policy. It is likely to remain so for many years to come, a result almost inevitable in the case of a young country of small population, vast unoccupied areas, and immense natural resources awaiting development. And especially so when, elsewhere in the world, there are numerous countries where population is already congested and the surplus people are anxiously looking abroad for some place in which to locate with a fair prospect of making a livelihood for themselves and their children.

It is probably true that in regard to no other question of vital national importance has public opinion in Canada, as in the United States, so completely changed within a few years as it has in regard to immigration. Within the last few years the change has been rapid and fundamental, and thousands of men and women today hold views diametrically opposite to those they entertained five or ten years ago. Many of these people are now inclined to blame former Governments because they adopted and pursued policies which do not find favor today, forgetting that they themselves believed in and approved policies then which they condemn now.

Not so long ago Federal Governments were applauded or criticised according as they succeeded or failed to increase the volume of immigration into this Dominion. Almost without a dissenting voice, organized labor alone perhaps excepted, the people of Canada urged and demanded aggressive policies of immigration in order to increase Canada's population, develop its resources, fill up the vacant spaces, and assist in carrying the Dominion's heavy burden or debt. Immigration was held to be necessary to provide business for our railways, and to reduce the per capita cost of government, schools, and those many other modern services which people demanded. And all governments tried to supply what the people as a whole wanted.

Now all this has changed, and from all parts of the country there is an expressed demand that immigration be restricted, if not altogether stopped, and just as there were extremists in days gone by who favored a wide-open-door policy of unrestricted entry, so now there are extremists who would prohibit all and sundry from entering the portals of the Dominion. As is true of almost every question, there is in this matter of immigration a sane and safe middle course.

Generally speaking, the opinion now prevails that all forms of assisted immigration should cease, or at all events should be strictly limited to individual cases of members of a family desirous of coming to Canada to join relatives already established here. The view is also held that there should be no more large movements of groups of people to be settled in communities. It is practically assured that these policies will be adhered to.

Canada's immigration policy has for some considerable time been one of admitting only those, mentally, morally and physically sound, who proposed to go upon the land, while those of the artisan and unskilled labor classes were discouraged. But the difficulty has been to keep those admitted on the land. Many having but little capital and meeting with initial discouragements and difficulties, have flocked to the cities in search of work, with dire results to themselves and to the urban communities thereby affected. How to overcome this problem, made more acute in recent years by the introduction on a large scale of labor-saving farm machines, as, for example, the combined harvester-thresher and the motor truck, and the consequent elimination of the need for thousands of farm hands, is still in acute question.

It is now suggested that immigration should be left to the Provinces rather than continue as one of the major functions of the Federal Government, and that each Province should decide who, and how many, to admit in any one year. But here another difficulty presents itself. Provincial requirements and policies may be far from uniform. One Province may adopt a policy amounting almost to exclusion, while another is much more lax in its policy governing immigration. But once an immigrant is admitted into Canada by any one Province, there is no power to prevent such immigrant from moving to another part of the Dominion. There must of necessity be some understanding reached by the Provinces if any effective restrictions are to be imposed by them, if the present plan of a central Dominion control is superseded.

The whole problem is one calling for the most careful investigation and study. It involves not only economic questions, but social, racial, religious, and other questions, each and every one presenting difficulties in the way of arriving at common understandings. It is a question that calls for the exercise of patience, goodwill, co-operation.

The Thelon Game Sanctuary, east of Great Slave Lake, consisting of 15,000 square miles, has been closed to both native and white hunters in order to protect the last known herd of Musk oxen, which are said to number around 250, and have their habitat within this area.

Adds To Consumer's Bills

Milk Dealers Lose Millions Annually Through Unreturned Bottles

Do you use milk bottles for jam, kerosene, paint, and other household articles? Perhaps you use them for flower vases, or in numerous other ways. If they get too dirty, probably they are thrown out with the ashes or trash.

Such a procedure is far too common, says the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, and adds materially to the consumer's milk bill. The annual milk-bottle bill of the nation is close to $30,000,000, the bureau says, and at least $20,000,000 of this is loss occurring after the bottles leave the dairy. Last year in one large city, junk men picked off the city dumps 20,000,000 milk bottles which had been thrown away. These bottles had a value of over $1,000,000.

SWOLLEN JOINTS GIVE GREAT PAIN

The Trouble Can Be Removed By Enriching the Blood Supply

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. Cold or damp weather may start the pain, but it is known that the trouble is actually due to weak, watery blood. The most successful treatment is the one that restores the blood to a healthy, normal condition. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided if they would only enrich and purify their blood by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood and in this way drive out the poisonous secretions which cause rheumatism. That this is the case is shown by the statement of Mr. A. Oickle, Milton, N.S., who says:—"About two years ago I had a very severe attack of rheumatism. The trouble located chiefly in my hips and legs, the joints swelling so badly that often I would have to sit up in a chair, being unable to lie down. The pain, at times, was agonizing. Finally I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and these I found, to my great satisfaction, just the thing needed to relieve me of the misery I was undergoing. Under the use of the pills the swelling subsided, the pain disappeared, and there has not since been any return of the trouble. I am very thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me, and hope some other sufferer may benefit from my experience."

You can procure these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Caramel Pudding

A Delicious Dessert That Practically Makes Itself

One of the most delicious desserts one can serve, and it is one especially loved by children, can be said practically to make itself. It is called Caramel Pudding. Here it is:

"Place an unopened can of Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk in a kettle of boiling water and simmer for two and a half hours, being careful not to let the kettle boil dry. Remove can, cool and chill. Remove top of can, cutting along the side of can—not the top—so that the contents may be removed whole; place on a serving dish and garnish with broken nut meats, and whipped cream. To serve individually, cut in slices, garnish with nut meats, and whipped cream—or use plain unsweetened cream, with or without garnish."

B.C. Telephones

Improvement and Extension Of Service Is Noted

Within two months by the use of a new B.C. telephone all cable route, Vancouver and Victoria will be connected by an additional 35 speech channels. Two direct telephone services will be in operation between Vancouver and Calgary this spring.

Before the end of this year the whole of British Columbia lying to the south of the C.P.R. main line will be linked with high grade telephone communication, extending from the Crow's Nest to Vancouver and Victoria.

Glass That Bends

Nearest Approach Is a Glass Substitute Called "Windolite"

There is a fortune awaiting the man who invents a flexible glass. This stands perhaps at the head of the list of necessary things the world waits for. So far the nearest approach is a glass substitute called "Windolite," invented in England, and put on the market there in 1917, and now sold in Canada. "Windolite" consists of a cellulose acetate compound reinforced with fine, specially galvanized wire mesh. It is so dipped in the solution as to coat the wire mesh thoroughly on both sides and the resulting substance is therefore completely waterproof, airtight, flexible and practically unbreakable.

One advantage this substitute has over ordinary glass is that it freely transmits the valuable ultra-violet rays of the sun. This quality makes "Windolite" invaluable for a wide variety of uses where real sunlight is necessary to health and growth such as the rearing of young chicks and turkeys in confinement. Ordinary glass shuts out these rays, and yet they are vitally important to human beings, as well as plants, poultry and live stock. Another surprising thing about this glass substitute is that it is cheaper than ordinary glass, and yet extremely light in weight and very strong.

Old Marriage Contract

Drawn Up By Egyptian Husband and Dated 590 B.C.

Marriage contracts were in vogue among early Egyptians, according to tablets found in the Nile region by explorers. The earliest known nuptial contract there dates from 590 B.C., the terms of which were drawn by the husband. It has been translated as follows: "Since God willeth that we should unite one with the other in righteous wedlock, after the manner of every free man and every wise woman, therefore I have given thee four dollars in gold as a bridal gift. And for my part I will not neglect thee. Neither shall I put thee forth without a cause, having legal ground. But should I wish to put thee forth, I will pay 17 dollars for the matter."

Value of Clean Seed in Ensuring Success of Crop Returns Cannot Be Too Highly Stressed

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, crops throughout the greater part of Canada in 1929 were generally below the average and the seed supply for next spring, in consequence, also of even greater importance than usual. In not a few instances a complete new supply will have to be raised and in practically every case new requirements must be met. It is advisable, notwithstanding, a host of evidence from every experimental farm in Canada, and the advice of all leading agriculturists, the bulk of the seed grain sown in this country receives little attention in the way of cleaning and grading. The Dominion Government has gone to very considerable expense in establishing a string of seed-testing laboratories from the Atlantic to Alberta. At these places up to three samples of farmers' seed will be tested free of charge. But in spite of all efforts to get seed tested but a fraction of that used every spring is examined.

Time and again indisputable evidence comes to hand that seed in huge quantities are actually being sown by farm owners themselves. The seed drill survey conducted in Ontario, last season and similar surveys throughout other parts of the Dominion in recent years have proven this beyond dispute. The greater part of the seed grain used, if examined in the seed laboratories, would not reach the lowest of all official grades, No. 3. It is a well known fact, that tested, clean, plump, well-graded seed will outyield the ordinary variety by a margin sufficient to cover five or six times the extra cost of such seed. Not only will graded seed produce more vigorous plants but the space occupied by the weeds sown with the ordinary seed is used to produce valuable grain or clover. In not a few cases where very dirty seed is used actually from ten to twenty-five per cent. of the land sown is taken up in the production of weeds and the crop from such land these same weeds account for from ten to twenty per cent. of the loss. It is not excessive loss like this and prosper and farming is not an exception to this.

1930 To Be Year Of Progress

Large Developments Are Expected In Canada During Present Year.

"Developments during the past indicate that 1930 will be one of enlarged progress," said G. G. Ommanney, director of the Department of Development, Canadian Pacific Railway, while in Winnipeg, the other day in company with John A. Fraser, consulting geologist. Major Ommanney emphasized the remarkable increase in mineral production, water power installation and the new conditions in the forest products industries.

Personal Touch Is Necessary To Understand Foreign Markets

The foundations of British foreign trade were laid by men who were adventurers as well as merchants. They went out into the world and saw with their own eyes the manners and customs and needs of their customers. What seems to be wanted is a more general revival of that adventurous spirit. Only by the personal touch that comes of actual visits to foreign markets can there be a proper understanding of the mentality of potential customers and of the position which British methods of salesmanship, as compared with those of foreign rivals, may call for amendment. — London Times.

Growth Of Wheat Pool Membership Represents Over Fifty-Five Per Cent. Of Farms In Western Canada

The total combined membership of the three provincial pools of the Canadian Wheat Pool, as disclosed by a recent official compilation, was 138,020. According to the government census of 1926, there were 248,162 farms in Western Canada; the pool membership, therefore, represents 55.5 per cent. of the farms in the three prairie provinces. The Manitoba Pool membership has increased from 9,216 in December, 1924, to 17,935; the Saskatchewan Pool membership has grown, during the same period, from 51,268 to 80,158; the Alberta Pool membership is 59,927, as compared with 126,601 in December, 1923. Of the 205 million bushels of wheat sold by the Pool during the crop year ended July 31, 1929, over 52 per cent. or 108 million bushels were exported directly by the Pool to 90 ports in 19 different countries. The United Kingdom bought direct nearly 35 million bushels; Japan, 11 million; Belgium, 10.7 million; Holland, over 10 million; Italy, nearly 9 million; and France, nearly 8 million.

The Pool now operates 5,481 country grain elevators in Western Canada with a total capacity of 57,000,000 bushels and 12 terminal elevators at Arthur, Fort William, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Buffalo, with a combined capacity of 22,007,210 bushels. Last year the Canadian Wheat Pool did a gross turnover of $288,000,000, the largest of any business in Canada with the exception of the Dominion Government.

00.012 Cars of grain inspected and graded at Saskatoon since this city became a general inspection point on October 15, 1929, total 7,860 cars. Very little grain is moving now, only 390 cars have been inspected during the past month.

00.012 Stocks of grain at the government elevator have been somewhat reduced, much going out to local mills. Little grain is now in store, which at the high point showed 3,340,000 bushels in store, is now given as 2,816,180 bushels. The present amount of other grains is: Oats, 84,689; barley, 11,819; flax, 4,169; and

Great Britain Beginning to Realize That Canada Has Reached a Most Important Stage of Development

Promises Great Things

General Snodgrass' Doubts Whether Canadians Realize Great Future

Doubt whether Canadians realized the great future that was in store for them was expressed by General Jan Christiaan Smuts, former prime minister of South Africa, in a speech before the South African Luncheon Club, in London, England, on his recent visit to the Dominion and the United States. "There is something growing up in the Dominion which promises very great things for the British commonwealth of nations," he added.

The famous soldier and statesman said he found his visit to Canada had been most exhilarating. He had seen a spirit of hopefulness and optimism which was most refreshing. In the course of a few generations Canada would be as great as the United States was today he added. "It is a great thought that it will be possible for Canada to realize her very great destiny right inside the British commonwealth of nations, without any thought of severance," he concluded.

Multiplicity Of Cars

More Than Two Million Motor Vehicles Added To Number In Use In U.S. In 1929

During 1929 more than two million motor vehicles were added to the number in use in the United States, a compilation of registration figures by the magazine "Motor," made public recently discloses.

Passenger cars and trucks now in use total 26,562,713, as compared with 24,479,648 a year ago. The increase in registration was 8.5 per cent. over 1928, as compared with an increase of 5.9 per cent. in 1928 over 1927.

Passenger cars registered number 23,262,845, an increase of 8.8 per cent. over 1928, and trucks 3,229,870, an increase of 6.1 per cent.

Great Valuable Book

A valuable present was made to the city of Quebec recently, when W. P. Chittenden, of London, presented the city with a bound volume of Royal magazines for 1759. This volume contains several interesting facts about Quebec, and also of General Wolfe, who captured Quebec and brought Canada under British rule.

Noted Golfer Lays Corner-Stone

Before a distinguished gathering of golfers, George S. Lyon, dean of Canadian players of the Royal and Ancient, declared the corner stone of the clubhouse of the Royal York Golf Course "well and truly laid" recently. The palatial $175,000 structure will command an unsurpassed view of what Mr. Lyon says "will be one of the sportiest courses in the Dominion." Left to right are shown: R. Home Smith, who donated the land for this fine course; George S. Lyon, chairman of the advisory committee of the Royal York Golf Club; and Superintendent Groat, representing the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is erecting the clubhouse, of which the architect's conception is also shown in above picture. It will have 35 bedrooms as well as the usual conveniences and will be completed in time for the official opening next May.

Won By Geo. Avery, of Kelso, At Recent Marquis Wheat Exhibit

The Saskatchewan wheat championship for 1930 went to George Avery, of Kelso, at the recent exhibit for a sample of Marquis wheat, while J. W. McChie, of Marquis, took second place. Curiously, enough, this award reverses the Chicago placing, where Mr. McChie was third and Colonel Avery fourth. The latter also took the oats championship with a sample of Victory oats weighing 47 1/2 pounds to the bushel.

WHEAT MARKETINGSITUATION PRESENTS*GRAVE POSSIBILITIES

The Federal Government, as well as the Governments of the Prairie Provinces, foresee more than a possibility of a situation arising which can only be met by the Federal Government throwing its resources behind the Pool to avert a catastrophe.

The situation is that there are approximately 230,000,000 bushels of wheat in store in Canada and that the banks have some $75,000,000 tied up in advances which eventually reached the farmers on this grain. There is no immediate and satisfactory market for the wheat. In order to dispose of it at terms acceptable to the Pool there must occur a world shortage. If, instead of a crop failure in 1930 in one of the major exporting countries, the yield should be normal, or above normal, the marketing of the 1929 Canadian carry-over will mean that an equal quantity, at least, of the 1930 crop will be carried over until 1931.

That is a situation which can be handled as it is being handled now. If, instead of an average world production, 1930 piles up another big surplus, it is obvious grain storage facilities in Canada will have to be enormously increased if the Pool continues its present policy of withholding grain to stabilize prices. So will the financial facilities to carry the growers have to be enormously increased. There is a natural limit to the extent to which banks can tie up their money for an indefinite period on what automatically becomes a frozen asset.

The Prairie Provinces have anticipated the situation by pledging financial support to the Pool, but it does not take any great imagination to contemplate a condition where the provinces will not be able to handle the situation. It is readily possible that two or three banner crops would, under the present marketing policy, find Canada with half a million or more bushels of wheat carried over.

In the face of restrictive legislation in duties by normally importing countries such as France, Italy, Germany and Czechoslovakia, and hampered by system of agricultural bonuses in several of these countries, the Pool by holding its grain has chiefly stabilized the market for lower grade wheat from the Argentine, India, Australia, South Africa and the United States.

Eventually, of course, an outlet must be found. Canada cannot go on surplus production. That policy would lead to a point where the Government would have to buy the wheat, if only to destroy it. Even a single year, with banner crops everywhere, might

LETTERS CANNOT BE RETURNED TO WRITER

Postmasters in the approximately 12,000 offices in Canada receive upwards of 1,000 requests each day for senders of mail that they be allowed to retrieve it from the post.

In about half the cases an opportunity to correct addresses is sought. In the other half, people, on second thought, decide the letter would be better unsent.

Applicants, however, are doomed to disappointment, for when a letter goes into a mail box or a post office the sender loses his rights in it. It automatically becomes the property of the person to whom addressed.

Requests for the return of mail have become so numerous that the Deputy Postmaster-General, L. J. Gaboury, has issued a warning to Postmasters stating that "mail matter once posted must be forwarded according to its directions. On no application, however urgent, can it be delivered back to the writer, or to any other person."

FIRST WOMAN SENATOR NAMED

Premier King has given official endorsement to the view of the Privy Council that a woman is a "person" and therefore eligible to sit in the Canadian Senate by appointing a member of the fair sex to that body. It cannot be said that the Prime Minister acted with undue haste in creating the precedent. He took several months to think it over and his choice finally fell on a fellow-citizen in Ottawa.

The first woman Senator, Mrs. Norman Wilson, is of unimpeachable political record. She is the wife of a former Liberal M.P. and the daughter of the late Senator Robert MacKay, for many years one of the party stalwarts in the district of Montreal. More than that, she was the founder of the Ottawa Women's Liberal Association and is an officer of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada.

It will be a matter of passing regret that the honor did not fall to a westerner. A group of Alberta women led the successful fight to assert the right of the sex to sit in the Senate. The lack of a vacancy precluded one of them being selected to lead the way into the Red Chamber.

So far as qualifications go, there is no reason why women should not make their mark in the Red Chamber. They have shown their worth in other legislative bodies and in cabinet posts. Canada has long recognized their fitness for public office. Now that the anomaly governing admission to the Senate has been removed, there is no special reason why more of them should not be so honored from time to time as opportunity develops.

THE SCOURGE OF CANCER

The Medical Academy of Alberta has just appointed a committee to study the problem of the incidence and treatment of Cancer. The Personell of this committee has been selected with great care. All are outstanding in their several fields of medicine and the benefits arising from this study should be marked.

However, without the coöperation of the public, results must, of necessity, be delayed. Cancer has a high death rate because the patient is not seen by the physician until the disease is so advanced as to be beyond all help. (Here again we would emphasize the need for the yearly physical examination).

When middle age is reached, any irregularity in the normal functions of the body, with or without pain, is reason enough for a visit to the physician. For instance, a woman discovers a small swelling under her arm or on her breast. It is not painful, and she appears to be well. She ignores it. Presently the arm becomes heavy, there is pain, there may be slight discoloration. A doctor is seen and the dread verdict of "Too Late" is given. Do not ignore swellings, however trivial they may appear.

A long established normal function may become irregular, accompanied by backache or just a tired feeling. Again a physical should be consulted without delay.

The coöperation of the public is necessary, too, in this strenuous fight against the scourge of cancer.

Motor Truck Licenses

Saskatchewan Government In Making New Regulations Has No Desire To Hamper the Farmer

The Saskatchewan Government has decided to place the motor license branch under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Highways, being of the opinion that the administration thereof logically belongs to the Highway Department. It has been hitherto under the Provincial Secretary. This intention will be implemented at the next session of the Legislature.

The Minister of Highways announced that the Government has reconsidered the regulations relative to motor truck licenses. He points out that by the reduction of the car license fees the revenue of the province will be reduced this year to the extent of approximately $600,000.00. The change in the truck license fees was inaugurated with the purpose of assisting in revenue as well as to insure that trucks used for commercial purposes would pay their share for usage of the roads of the province. These new regulations were based on the Ontario regulations, being on a slightly lower scale throughout than the fees charged in Ontario. The new fees are also lower than those charged in the province of Alberta, and many other provinces and states.

Out of 250 truck licenses already issued this year, 69 were registered at the same fee as formerly, and 25 registered for a fee only exceeding last year's rate by $2.00 or $3.00, that is 27 per cent. of the registrations shows that no increase has taken place and 10 per cent shows an increase of $3.00 or less. It is also estimated that 50 per cent. of those who own trucks also own private cars and profit by the $5.00 reduction in car licenses.

It was not the desire of the Saskatchewan Government to in any way hamper the farmer in the use of trucks by increasing license fees. Materially a lot of resolutions received from some of the municipalities, however, the Government has investigated and has determined that approximately 85 per cent. of the trucks are owned outside of the cities of the province, namely, 16,050 out of a total registration of 18,669. A large number of these are trucks used in the hauling of grain in the fall, and it was thought that by moving the one-half yearly license fee from October 1st, as formerly, to September 1st, as under the new regulations, this would furnish a one-half yearly license fee for a great number of the farmers. Upon further investigation, however, the Government has arrived at the conclusion that this may not meet the situation, and it is anxious that nothing shall be done that will in any way tend to hamper the producer.

It would further appear that a number of trucks used in the cities contribute the provincial license tax, gasoline tax as well as the city tax, and do not proceed beyond the boundaries of the city or make any use of the provincial roads. It is felt that some measure of relief should be granted in that regard and also with regard to the farmer, although no such relief is apparently granted in any of the other provinces or the states of the Union, as far as the information at hand shows.

While they are anxious to secure as much revenue as possible for road building purposes, the Saskatchewan Government decided to pass a further bill-in-council the effect of which will be to give a one-half yearly license fee for all truck owners purchasing their licenses after September 1st. And further, that upon any resident of a town or city taking a statutory declaration at the end of the year to the effect that his or her truck has not proceeded beyond the boundaries of the town or city during the course of the year, such owner will be entitled to a refund of the difference between the amount charged under the new regulations in excess of the regulations formerly in effect, and that upon any such declaration being taken a declaration to the effect that his or her truck has only been used during the year, exclusively for farm purposes, that such farmer will be entitled to a refund of any excess charged under the new regulations over the previous regulation. The minister points out that should a farmer use the truck for other than farm purposes, such as travelling work, he will be most cases, under the new regulations, pay very little, if any more and should be treated under the commercial classification.

It is the intention of the minister to collect data during the year on the trucks for which the trucks in the province are used, this data being incorporated in the application for the license and to seriously consider issuing a different motor license plate for trucks coming under the above classification for the year 1931, in order to assist in preventing any breaches of the regulations.

He has also ascertained that many trucks from outside the boundaries of the province have hitherto been engaged in work in the province, such as graveling, without paying any license fee to the province. The minister is now licensing all trucks in the province to do so. In connection with the trucking in the province. The regulations under the motor vehicles act with regard to keeping to the right of the road, speed, etc., particularly with regard to gravel trucks, will be rigorously enforced this year.

New Plant For Manufacture Of

Woollen Goods Is Announced
Plans announced by W. J. Caldwell & Co., provide for the erection of a new plant in Calgary, at an approximate cost of $400,000 for the manufacture of woollen goods. This is expected to double the capacity of the present plant, which is now using the equivalent of 15,000 fleeces annually. It is thought likely that a second section of the same size will be added later.

A SIMPLE TREATMENT FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS

Cold in the head is very common at this time of the year, especially in the very young. Neglect of a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating a cold, whether in infants or adults. For the very young, Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotics, they soothe the child's fretfulness, relieve its suffering and ensure convalescence.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation and colic. They check diarrhoea; break up colds and simple fevers; promote health-giving sleep and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are the one medicine that a mother can give her little ones with perfect safety as they are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

If you wish to appear agreeable in society you must consent to be taught many things which you know already.

Miller's Worm Powders will purify the stomach and intestines of worms so effectively and so easily and painlessly, that the most delicate stomach will not feel any inconvenience from their action. They recommend their use to mothers as a preparation that will restore strength and vigor to their children and protect them from the debilitating effects which result from the depredations of worms.

Plans For Poultry Congress

Large Space Is Reserved For Exhibits From Canada

The World's Poultry Congress to be held in London, in July of this year, promises to be carried out on a more elaborate scale than the third congress, which was held in Ottawa three years ago. This is the view expressed by Mr. Percy Francis, director of the congress, who accompanied Mr. E. C. Elford, president of the World's Poultry Science Association, when he visited many European countries and the Near East a few months ago.

The London congress is being supported and carried through by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries of England, and the Department of Agriculture in Scotland and Northern Ireland. Of the 45 countries participating in the congress, 31 are reported to have set up national committees, or their equivalent, for the purpose of organizing their representation at the congress. Canada's exhibit, it will occupy a very important place among the national exhibits. At a meeting of the central committee, held in Ottawa, recently, there was presented a plan of the floor space to be used in the Crystal Palace where the congress is to be held. This shows that a 96-foot frontage with a 22-foot depth is to be devoted to the provincial exhibits. For the commercial exhibits from Canada a 120-foot frontage, with a depth of 24 feet is to be used. Space will accommodate the World's Grain Exhibition, and the Association of the British Columbia Record of Performance for Poultry, and various other associations.

At the recent meeting, Professor W. A. Mac, of Macdonald College, who is chairman of the program committee, stated that Canada will present 15 papers covering such subjects as breeding, incubation, nutrition and rearing, diseases and their control, and economics, including marketing.

Mr. L. F. Burrows, secretary of the Canadian Congress Committee, announces that in order to maintain a certain uniformity in the appearance of the entire provincial exhibits the congress committee of management has agreed to build the entire front of the stands and the background. This work will be executed under the direction of J. O. Turcotte, Canadian Exhibition Commissioner.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment, but they are habit-forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and gripe and leave a depressed after effect. Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy. A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, helps to flow the bowels more gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation passes away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active, and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c per pkg.

The presence of the little shop in the front room did not cheapen the old house in Charmian's loving eyes. As a child the contents of the high-boy drawers had fascinated her. Now she regarded them as something that helped to give her grandmother a few comforts. Had anyone suggested that they might be better off in a smaller place, she would have been as horrified as would Grandma herself. The view from her own window amply repaid her for the care of so large a room. With an unerring sense of beauty she clung tenaciously to the fine pieces of old mahogany with which her great-great-grandfather had furnished his family mansion, smiling with inward scorn at the golden oak or mission furniture that was the pride of some of her friends and neighbors.

Grandma, it is true, rather lacked this adoration of the antique. She gazed rapturously at the mail order catalogues from Chicago, and was particularly enamored of an ornate oak hat tree; while Charmian, knowing that there was no possibility of her grandmother making such a rash purchase, smiled indulgently, and let the old lady dream.

"If only the school committee decides to give me District Four!" she sighed a dozen times a day, and planned how every penny she could save should go toward beautifying the old home. Even as it was, tourists (they had such things in Wickfield now), would sometimes stop their automobiles and admire the gilded pineapple above the door, despite the fact that its coat of goldleaf was slowly vanishing before the snow and ice of the New England winters.

Charmian had been thinking of the pineapple this very morning, and wondering what it would cost to gild it, when the doctor sat down upon the steps. As his eyes came back from the syringa bush and met her own, she continued, almost apologetically: "I know it's too big a house for Grandma and me, but—"

"Why not take a boarder?" he broke in. "You've plenty of empty bedrooms, goodness knows."

Charmian was silent for a moment, letting the thought sink in.

"But you see," she began dubiously, "I couldn't manage the meals—not if I get the school, anyway. As it is, it's a scramble to fix a lunch for Grandma, or was when I went to Normal. If only some one wanted just a room—but there! nobody in Wickfield does, or ever has!"

The doctor seemed to be lost in thought. Then he looked up at Charmian and smiled. She made a pretty picture, there on the top of the low stepladder. Her old blue linen, though faded with many washings, still did good work in bringing out the blue of her dark-fringed eyes; and her cheeks were flushed.

"A penny for your thoughts, Doctor," she said.

The old man shook his head. "They're not the sort I'd prescribe for an innocent-looking miss like you," he answered, "and yet," (a sudden twinkle appearing in his gray eyes), "I think I'll tell them. I was wondering, my dear, why some I kely chap hadn't run away with you."

The girl threw back her head and laughed, adding much to the charm of an already charming picture.

"But you see," she at last asserted, "though I wouldn't breathe it to the public, there are no likely chaps in Wickfield."

"No?" questioned the doctor, frowning. "What's the matter with George K's boys? Or Jimmy Bennett? Jim's a splendid fellow, or I never knew one; and some one told me (either a little bird or Lizzie Baker), that—well—"

Charmian laughed again.

"You surprise me, Doctor Howe—a close-mouthed man like you listening to gossip! But I'll admit that my statement was rather sweeping. Of course George K's boys are splendid; but they're away from home, and two of them are married anyway. As for Jim, I can't just see him in the light of a young Lochinvar. He'd never dare elope with any one, without first asking permission of his mother."

"And is filial devotion a quality to be scorned?"

Although there was mirth in the doctor's eyes, Charmian's face sobered.

"Sometimes," she answered quietly, "sometimes, Doctor Howe, I think it is—when one carries it as far as Jim does. I can't imagine his asking a girl to marry him without first dissecting her with his mother. Do you think any self-respecting woman would stand for that?"

The indignation of these last words brought the doctor's eyes suddenly and disconcertingly to hers.

"So you've been—dissected?"

Charmian blushed.

"You know entirely too much," she said severely, "and anyway, I don't see how we reached this subject. We began with boarders, and—"

"Which is what I came for," interrupted the doctor. "You see, Charmian, my dear, I'm getting old."

"Not you!" laughed Charmian, and coming down from the ladder she seated herself beside him on the steps.

"Nothing truer," he went on soberly. "I find it more difficult to be routed out at night than I did once. I feel more tired after a long day's work; but—but I'm not ready to give up—yet."

"I should say not!" Charmian responded, slipping a comforting hand into the old man's. "What should we do without you?"

He smiled.

"You'd do very well—probably better than you do now. Old folks are set in their ways, and ways are changing all the time you know. But I need help. I need an assistant—a young, up-to-date assistant."

"He'd starve—in Wickfield. We wouldn't have him near us."

"Not even to help me out?"

The girl looked up, suddenly serious.

"You really mean it, Doctor?"

"Yes, I mean it. I'm getting tired, Charmian, though I haven't been willing to face the truth. What I stopped here for, my dear, was to ask if you'd take the boy to board."

"The boy? You mean a new doctor?"

He laughed at her startled face.

"Why not? You've room enough and to spare. If you can't manage his meals he could get them at the Central House, I suppose; but I don't think he'd enjoy living there. Would you?"

Charmian shuddered at the idea, but asked: "What will Grandma say?"

"She'll agree to anything you think best," smiled the doctor. "I know Grandma! Well, dear child, you think it over. I don't want to put any more burdens on your shoulders; but he'll pay well, and—Look here! He's coming up on Saturday. I'll drop him in casually and let you look him over."

"I shan't need to look him over if you recommend him," she said as they arose. "But of course, he'll want to look at us! If he could get his dinners down town I think I could manage the rest. As for Grandma—"

"Charmian," called the old lady from her window, "what on earth are you two talking about all this time? You tell the doctor to step in a minute before he goes. I want to ask him about my rheumatism."

CHAPTER II.

As the doctor went within at Grandma's call, Charmian lifted her little stepladder and carried it back to the woodshed where it belonged. She was an orderly soul, but this morning it was only habit that made her pause at the door to see if everything was in its place. Her thoughts were not centered upon woodsheds, stepladders, or the neat pile of kindlings in the corner. She was thinking of the doctor's confession about getting "tired." What he meant, of course, was getting old. The idea brought a strange, sick feeling to Charmian's heart. What would life be in Wickfield without its doctor?

The girl sank down on the side steps and looked off dreamily at the distant hills—hills so softly blue that they seemed to her imaginative vision to be wrapped in a chiffon veil. She was thinking: "Of course I'll board him, even if it's a bother. It'll help the doctor, and there's nothing I wouldn't do for Doctor Howe—just nothing."

Her eyes strayed to the orchard—where a small rustic table was built beneath a tree. The doctor had built it years ago. How many, many times had he joined her there at her doll tea parties? she mused. What hadn't he done for her, and for all other Wickfield youngsters?

How he loved them—the children! It seemed to Charmian when she grew old enough to learn that this dear friend had lost his best beloved in a cruel accident on what was to have been their wedding eve, that she and the other children of the neighborhood had been to him, in a measure, the babies that might have been his own. In those days his buggy was always full of children. "The more the merrier," he would say, stopping to take in the boys and girls on their way to school. Pandora, his old white mare, seemed of her own accord to "slow up" at sight of any small figure trudging along the road. Pandora was in pasture now, an honored boarder, and, except when the snowdrifts were too deep, the doctor travelled in a "divver." His was the first automobile to be seen in Wickfield. Indeed, when he drove for the first time and waved a hand, Grandma Davis had almost fallen from the window in her excitement.

"It doesn't seem quite right," she said to Charmian. "What's the world coming to, I'd like to know? I declare, I wouldn't have thought it if Edward Howe!"

Canada's Contribution

Permanent Posts Established In Polar Regions Are Invaluable

Canada is making a notable contribution to Arctic research in the establishment of permanent posts in the Polar regions, said G. P. MacKenzie, of the Canadian Department of the Interior, who led the expedition which sailed on the "Beothic" last year, exploring Arctic regions, in speaking before the Women's Canadian Club in Toronto.

"Unquestionably Canada is making a greater contribution than are the explorers who merely go in and out of the Arctic leaving no permanent establishment behind them," he said.

Overcome Sleeping Sickness

Medical Science Has Prevented Population Of French Equatorial Africa From Being Wiped Out

Medical science has prevented the population of French equatorial Africa from being wiped out by sleeping sickness, it was declared in an interview by Raphael Antonetti, Governor-General of the colony, who is now in Paris.

Although the birth rate was satisfactory, he explained, the population continued to diminish through disease, which caused more deaths than there were births. This went on until 1921, when the French officials recognized the peril and took energetic action against sleeping sickness and all tropical infections.

Life passes, riches fly away, popularity is fickle, the senses decay, the world changes, friends die. One alone is constant; One alone is true to us; One alone can be true; One alone can be all things to us; One alone can supply our needs; One alone can train us up to our full perfection; One alone can give a meaning to our complex and intricate nature; One alone can give us tune and harmony; One alone can form and possess us. When BABIES are upset

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

"Say it with apples." Canadian Pacific Express Company slogan for the sending of gifts by Canadians to friends in Great Britain and Europe, is being extended from Christmas and New Year presents to gifts sent at all times of the year. With the present banner apple crop of Canada, the fruit can be bought at a reasonable price and its quality is of the highest. If sent overseas before the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence, cost will be considerably reduced.

A ship of heroes skippered by one of themselves was the unique feature of the sailing of the Duchess of York on a recent trip from Montreal. Six holders of the Victoria Cross, Britain's most envied and most meritorious of war awards, were on the vessel, which was under the command of Captain Stuart, himself a V.C. They were on their way from Canada to London to take part in the dinner by the Prince of Wales to Victoria Cross men from all parts of the Empire, slated to be held November
9. Other V.C.'s travelled on Canadian Pacific liners Minnedosa and Empress of Scotland.
